DETAILED ACTION

The information disclosure statements filed on 7/26/2000 and 8/28/2000 have been entered. Claims 1-31 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rando et al. (hereinafter Rando – RE37,166).

Rando acknowledges the use of a POS terminal for accepting coupons, an auxiliary unit for verifying the coupons, and the method for reimbursing the retailers. However, Rando fails to specifically disclose that the retailers will be reimbursed within five days after the each coupon accepting transaction. It would have been obvious to reimburse the retailer within five days. The examiner is of the view that this is strictly a "business rule" which does not add any limitation to the underlying inventiveness features of applicant's invention.

Regarding claim 2, see the discussions above. Also see col. 3, lines 1-30 of Rando.

Regarding claim 3, see col. 3, lines 1-30 of Rando. The claim differs in calling for the step of storing the coupons in a secure lock box. It would have been obvious to incorporate the limitations in Rando's system. Though Rando describes in col. 2, lines 1-30 the step of shredding and inking the validated coupons, storing the coupons at a securing place is also another conventional technique which is often be used by manufacturers or clearing houses. Thus, the modification is merely a substitution of a common practice with another is well within the skill levels and expectations of an ordinary skilled artisan.

Regarding claims 4-5, see the discussions above.

Regarding claim 6-31, see the discussions above. Specifically, the steps of not reimbursing the retailers for invalidated coupons, etc. would be have been included in the systems as discussed above (also read col. 3-17 of Rando).
